Introduction

Motivated children can learn anything So Moo-O inspires them to read fluently and expressively

Immersive Digital Story Book
Students become characters in the story and connect with other students to read collaboratively. Becoming a character in the story and collaborating with other students to create a video that they can share makes reading aloud a meaningful and motivating activity.

Moo-O is extremely popular with children and teachers as a unique digital storybook that helps them improve their reading fluency skills. The ability to see themselves as characters immediately impresses on the children the need to read with appropriate intonation and expression (prosody) that their characters require of them.

Moo-O is collaborative as children take on different characters in a story.

Moo-O is an exciting and effective interactive reading program for students in levels K - 3. In Moo-O, students work collaboratively to make stories come alive. They become the characters and record their efforts to share online with their family and friends.

There are four components in Moo-O Plus:

- Listen: Students become familiar with the story by listening to it. All stories are read by native speakers with an American accent. Teachers can highlight specific points by using the pen feature.

- Learn These Words: Students learn new vocabulary that appears in the story. They can practice new vocabulary by taking a gamified spelling quiz.

- Speak: Students answer three questions about the text to create an oral book report which can be saved and shared with the teacher, class, and parents.

- Act: Students become characters in the story. They bring the characters to life. They can save and share their story with friends and family.

Moo-O is extremely popular with students and teachers and parents as a unique way to improve reading and fluency skills. Students are motivated to participate in lessons because they are having fun. They work with their friends to create meaningful digital content they can share with their families.

Moo-O is being used by over a third of the public schools in Singapore with very positive feedback from teachers, students and parents. For the past four years, there has been a Moo-O competition between schools. Last year more than 40 schools participated.
