Canadian Student Ambassador Program – FAQ

Is this an internship program?

No, the Student Ambassador Program is not an internship program; however, Student Ambassadors have gone on to become McGraw Hill employees.

Is there compensation?

Student Ambassadors are eligible to receive rewards for involvement in certain Student Ambassador activities.

How can you join the program?

You will need to Submit Your Application. If selected, you will be contacted for an over-the-phone interview.

What is the commitment involved?

Every Student Ambassador is expected to commit to at least three activities per calendar year.

Will I be given the opportunity to interact with McGraw Hill professionals?

Yes, Student Ambassadors have the opportunity to collaborate with our Marketing, Sales and Digital Support Team.

How will I learn how to be an Ambassador?

If you become a Student Ambassador, you will go through an initial orientation with a McGraw Hill Program Manager. Ongoing communications, support and learning opportunities are provided throughout your tenure.

What can I expect if I become a Student Ambassador?

You can expect quarter-annual emails from the McGraw Hill Program Manager announcing new Student Ambassador opportunities for you to take part in. These opportunities may cap the number of Student Ambassadors required. You can communicate directly with the Program Manager to confirm your involvement and activity schedule.
